LAWRENCE COLLEGE, APPLETON, WIS.

Friday, February 8, 1946

Harold Green Will Present Piano Recital

Instructor at Con Will be Heard Sunday Night

Harold Green, instructor in piano at the Lawrence conservatory of music, will present a public piano recital at 8:30 Sunday evening in Peabody Hall.

Mr. Green, who was graduated from the Lawrence conservatory in 1943, has been on the piano staff there since 1944. He is organist at the First Presbyterian Church in Neenah and has acquired a considerable reputation as a composer, having several of his works performed on national symposiums.

His program, consisting of selections by Bach, Brahms, Ravel and Rathaus follows:

Partita No. 6, in E minor J. S. Bach
Toccata Allemande Air Sarabande Tempo di Gavotta Rhapsody, B minor, Opus 79, No. 1 Brahms Intermezzo, B flat, Opus 76, No. 4 Brahms Rhapsody, E flat, Opus 119, No. 4 Brahms Le Tombeau de Couperin Ravel Rigaudon Menuet Oberek (Polish Dance) Karol Rathaus

Shirley Buesing And Joan Meier Will Lead WAA

Janet Goode will head LWA for the coming year and Shirley Buesing will be president of WAA as a result of last Monday night's elections. Other officers in LWA are Phyllis Leverenz, vice-president; Mary Anschuetz, secretary; Jane Straub, treasurer; and Gwen Montz and Nancy Schuetter, co-social chairmen. The following will act as officers in WAA: Joan Meier, vice-president; Betty Haas, secretary; Audrey Jackson, treasurer; Elsie Pederson, social chairman; Jean Van Hengel, recorder; and Betty Hoffman, inter-sorority chairman.

Janet is a counsellor at Ormsby, social chairman of the Pi Phi, president of Eta Sigma Phi, will be pledge supervisor of her sorority next year, and has served as co-social chairman for LWA.

Shirley was vice-president of WAA last year and has been a co-issue editor of the Lawrentian. She is a new member of Sunset, is a member of Phi Sigma, the Spanish Club, the Aquaphin Club, and is co-rushing chairman of Delta Gamma.

LWA Sponsors Activities

LWA sponsors all women's activities on campus from the first introduction of freshmen to the Best Loved Banquet. Joan Meier, as vice-president, also heads the judicial board.

All women's athletic activities, from inter-class and inter-sorority games to Rib Mountain trips and the annual spring banquet, are sponsored by WAA. They see that a varied sports program is in progress throughout the year. On the agenda for the spring months is a proposed inter-school sport day on the Lawrence campus.

Past officers of LWA were: Beth Schulze, president; Mary Vinson, vice-president; Gloria Enger, secretary; Nancy Breithaupt, treasurer; and Janet Goode and Betty Thompson, co-social chairmen.

Officers of WAA the last two semesters were Mary Ann Hammervly, president; Shirley Buesing, vice-president; Betty Haas, treasurer; Joan Meier social chairman; Dorothy Thompson, recorder; and Betty Hoffman, inter-sorority chairman.

Seniors Must Have Pictures Taken Soon

Betty Thompson and Lois Hartmann, Ariel co-editors, have announced that all new students who are in their senior year of school must have their senior pictures taken at the F. J. Pechman studio in Kaukauna by the end of next week if the pictures are to make the 1945-46 Ariel deadline. Further particulars can be obtained from either of the editors.

Tryouts for College Dramatics Begin Today

Try outs for this semester's major dramatic production and one-act plays will be held this Friday and Saturday afternoon, Ted Cloak announced Tuesday.

The three-act play is Laburnam Grave by J. B. Priestly and will be given on March 13, 14 and 15 in the Little Gym. It will be presented in arena style and has parts for six men and three women. Copies are on reserve in the library if you wish to study the parts.

A group of two one-acts, directed by Mr. Voss will be presented February 29 in the Little Theatre, Main Hall. This year they will be Hello Out There by William Saroyan and Noel Coward's Hands Across the Sea.

All Lawrence students are invited to try out for the three plays Friday afternoon at 3:30 to 5:30 and Saturday 1:30 to 4:30. Everyone who is scholastically eligible has a chance to work on the production so we advise you to keep an eye on the Lawrentian for announcements of crews.

Messrs. Voss and Cloak both express the pleasure of seeing so many men back on campus who participated in former productions and also among the new men many likely candidates.

So here is your chance to show your dramatic ability. Let's see everyone at the try outs for Laburnam Grave, Hands Across the Sea and Hello Out There on Friday and Saturday afternoon.

Lawrentian Sponsors Contest For Best Cartoons

Cash prizes will be awarded for the best cartoons submitted in a Lawrentian sponsored talent-finding contest which begins today and will end at noon Feb. 25. Editor-in-chief Jean Derus has announced.

Cartoons entered should be 6" by 5" and may cover any phase of campus life at Lawrence. Students may enter as many cartoons as they wish and may collaborate in their work. Entries should be turned in to the editor or be placed in one of the baskets in the Lawrentian office.

Prize winners will be announced in the March 1 issue of the Lawrentian. The contest is being sponsored by the Lawrentian in order to discover the best cartoonists on campus. This contest may be the means of procuring a regular group of cartoonists for this semester's paper.

Miss Bethuram Speaks to Frosh

Faculty Member At Conn. College Discusses Hamlet

Miss Dorothy Bethuram, a member of the faculty at Connecticut College for Women, spoke this morning to the Freshman Studies class on Hamlet. Miss Bethuram has been on campus this past week presenting lectures to student groups. "Caxton's List of Great Books," was the subject of her address at convocation yesterday morning.

Professor of English at Lawrence college from 1927 to 1940, Miss Bethuram received her Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees from Vanderbilt university and her Ph.D. from Yale. Before coming to Lawrence, Miss Bethuram taught at Randolph-Macon Women's college and since 1940 she has been a member of the faculty at Connecticut College for Women at New London, Conn. While in Appleton she was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship and spent the academic year of 1937-38 in Europe doing research work. Miss Bethuram has also written many articles for professional journals.

Miss Bethuram has been doing extensive lecturing this winter at schools in the east including Colby, Wellesley, Wells and Smith colleges and has refused several engagements to appear at midwestern universities on the present trip to enable her to spend more time at Lawrence.

Radio Players Group Organized

"Alice in Wonderland" will be the first presentation of the new Lawrence Radio Players group which will be under the supervision of Miss Helen Day, Moss Day, who is affiliated with WHBY, will direct the play which will be presented for 13 weeks over the local station. Try-outs, open to all interested, will be held Wednesday, February 13 at 3:30 in Main Hall, Room 41. Copies of the play are on reserve at the library.

Social Plans For February Are Announced

Tomorrow evening the Campus gym will be the scene of the first mixer of the new semester. Special dances are being planned so that the blight of many mixers, groups of men at one end of the floor and women at the other, will be eliminated. The dance will begin at 8:30 and the social committee has announced that, as a special incentive, cokes and popcorn will be free.

A quick follow-up on the mixer will be held next Saturday in the Alexander gym when dates are to come dressed as song titles. First, second and third prizes will be awarded for the most original costumes. Dates may collaborate or surprise each other with their ingenuity. Further plans for the dance will be announced in next week's Lawrentian.

Business Staff

Needs New Members

Robert Wilson, Business Manager of the Lawrentian, has announced that there will be a meeting of all students interested in working on the Lawrentian business staff today at four o'clock in the Lawrentian office.

The Editor Speaks

New Editorial Board Will Set Policies for The Lawrentian

It has long been the custom to limit the scope of Lawrentian editorials to campus activities. This custom will be continued by the present staff. In order, however, to broaden the perspective of the editorials, the policies of the Lawrentian will be suggested by a newly appointed editorial board. The six members of the board were chosen with the view of having represented on the school paper many organizations and different activities on campus. It is expected that the wide range of interests represented on the board will lend greater significance to the positions taken on campus problems.

The editorial board wishes to emphasize the fact that the Lawrentian is for all Lawrence students. Each student has the opportunity to express his ideas in the So They Say column. Because the names of the contributors remain secret upon request, answers and counter-arguments should be submitted for publication in the same column. The editors believe that only by keeping secret the author's names will the column become truly representative of the varied views of the student body. All articles must, however, be signed when submitted to the editor.

The present Lawrentian staff hopes to continue to publish the school paper under the standards set by Miss Enger during the past year, and under which she earned for the college a First Class Honor Rating awarded by the Associated Collegiate Press.

Inadequate Union Facilities Require Immediate Attention

The influx of over one-hundred and fifty new students on the Lawrence campus has intensified the already seriously congested condition of Hamar Union. Even though this week's crowds were abnormal due to the irregularity of the classes, it is obvious that the Union will not be able to accommodate the students during the coming semester. Something must be done so that students will not have to wait in line for twenty minutes or a half an hour for a hot chocolate.

The Union is too important a part of our life at Lawrence to let the situation rest until 1947 brings us a new grill and union building. The students need a place where they can go for refreshments and recreation now. During the past week they have been forced to patronize the restaurants in downtown Appleton.

The present situation was not entirely avoidable. The slowness of the service is due to the fact the Union does not have sufficient equipment to serve a large crowd. It is equipped with only one small grill about two feet in length, half of which is unusable, and it has only two milk shake mixers, and one toaster. The regrettable fact is that there has been no concentrated effort to get more and better equipment. No order has been placed for a new grill, although the present one has been partially out of order for two years. If new orders are not accepted as yet, efforts should have been made to secure second-hand equipment.

Widening of the counter would also help somewhat. Students would not have to stand in line so long to place their orders, and they would find it easier to return their dishes. The important thing, however, is to get more equipment. More help could then be hired in the kitchen to prepare the orders. At present nothing could be gained by hiring more girls.

It seems that we need to place the responsibility for securing the needed equipment on one person or on one committee. It is difficult to discover who should have been trying to secure it. The college electrician has made inquiries, but the responsibility can not very well be his. Maybe it is a problem of the Student Union Committee. We believe that they should at least study the situation. We must put forth an effort to obtain the facilities now.

Ailers Will Miss Infirm's Prime Throat-Swabber

2:00 A. M. (Phone rings)

"Infirmity. What? You've had a headache since 12:00 this noon? Why didn't you call earlier?—Oh, you had a date. So now you can't sleep. What do you want me to do, sing Rock-a-bye Baby??" And Lawrence College's answer to Florence Nightengale prepares to admit another patient into the inner sanctum of the infirm. Little did Mrs. Poss realize when she received her R.N. how her chosen profession would turn on her.

Mrs. Poss entered Lawrence College in June 1944 and for four semesters treated everything from hang-nails to hangovers.

While on the Lawrence campus Mrs. Poss discovered several strange new diseases, notably a rare form of sleeping sickness which miraculously cures itself at 10:30 A. M. Another known as the "Convocation cold" prevented many broken-hearted Lawrentians from attending Convocation each week.

The infirmary was more than a medical center for real and imaginary ills. Pepto-Bismol and sympathy were dispensed in equal amounts. Whenever two or three were gathered in her presence there was ice cream also. Even after a hard day, Mrs. Poss seemed to enjoy playing hostess at one of the infirmary's famous "party-parties," although they weren't of the type to soothe one's battered body and shattered brain.

Dull and monotonous were the hours of throat swabbing. (Incidentally, Mrs. Poss enjoys the fame of being the only living nurse to use the throat swab and stomach pump interchangeably.) But there was nothing monotonous in the variety of excuses the students hopefully submitted. One classic was invented by a freshman girl who bounced in one Friday and demanded to be excused from gym that day, Monday and Wednesday. "I have a cold today; Monday I am going to have a backache; and Wednesday I am going to have a headache."

This Frosh was somewhat less subtle than the world-wise upper classmen who often were too sick to get to the infirm but were able to painfully make their way to the Union.

Florence Nightengale was known as the "Lady of the Lamp" but Mrs. Poss' "Aliases" were even more illuminating. "Petunia," "Pussy," "Mama" Poss—each member of the charmed circle had his own "petit nom d'amitie" for her.

After four semesters of colds and chicken pox, shots and flu epidemics, Mrs. Poss has retired to her seven-room heaven in Algoma, Wisconsin to take down her service flag and put out the welcome mat for Capt. Robert Poss who will return from Europe in March.

Gee, thanks, Mrs. Poss. You were swell!

Your Chapter And Mine

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Last Monday evening the officers who are to lead us throughout the coming year were installed. They are as follows: president, Gloria Enger; vice president, Nancy Schuetter; recording secretary, Bonnie Tripp; corresponding secretary, Pat Hamar; treasurer, Joan Ladwig; and rush chairman, Marilyn Edwards. Congratulations to all of you—we know it will be a splendid administration.

Our new president is now wearing a very beautiful diamond ring. Best wishes, Gloria—we're all very happy for you!

DELTA GAMMA

The Monday meeting before semester exams was devoted to a farewell party for Muffy Gruhn, Grace Pfeifer, Roseann Peterson and Phyllis Burkhardt. All, with the exception of Phyl, were graduating seniors. Favorite songs were sung, and the evening concluded with refreshments.

Nancy Mayhew wouldn't have been able to concentrate during final exams, had she known what lay in store for her between semesters. All the best wishes in the world to our pledge for the new diamond that she is wearing.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The new semester so far has proven very eventful for the members of Sigma Phi Epsilon. It marks the return of the Sig Eps to their house, and the return of the following Sig Eps to the Lawrence campus: Bill Davis, Jay Maddock, George Krueger, Maynard Burkhardt and Jerry Ziegler.

Sigma Phi Epsilon lost two valuable men when Ken Johnson and Pat Ryan left the campus. Pat left for the army, and Ken for the University of Illinois. Best of luck Pat and Ken.

At a recent election the following officers were elected: Clyde Stephenson, secretary; Jay Maddock, treasurer; and George Krueger, historian.

The Sig Eps are looking forward to the future, confident that it will prove to be one of the most eventful semesters in the long history of the chapter on the Lawrence campus.

BETA THETA PI

Returning from the service or transferring from other colleges, the following new Betas have taken up residence in the Beta house on the campus: Bill Barr, Cornell college; Bob Curry, Horizon; Jim Dalton, Fish Creek; John Disher, Milford, Michigan; Dick Guedke, Milwaukee; Art Healy, Cornell college; Jerry Herriek, Nekeosa; Jim Richards, Northwestern university; Larry Storms, Highland Park; and Dan Scully, Waukegan. Welcome to the campus, fellows!

Next on the entertainment schedule for Betas and their girls is a record party which is to be held Sunday night in the Beta basement.

what did Segall and Marty have rolled inside that rug—a dead body?

The boys didn't waste any time getting into those vacated houses either. As fast as the girls emptied them they filled them right up again—all of which reminds me I must remember to pull my shades down now.

Quad Girls Battle Snow To Migrate

Have our upperclass girls taken a fancy to the nomad idea? Are the rats leaving the sinking ship? Are the frat houses haunted? Why all of a sudden this Great Migration last weekend?

In words of one syllable, it's MEN . . . they've decided to settle down again to their former life of ease . . . and thus the dames are relegated to the ranks of Sage widows.

Now they too can join us in our misery of inch-thick mattresses and banging radiator pipes . . . now they can smell that bread baking a good three hours before lunchtime . . . and they can even claim one of those continually empty mail-boxes for their own. Their life of solitude is over . . . they must get used to the wide open spaces of Sage parlor and the hair-raising scramble for the paper each night . . . and they must watch for those flickering lights at eleven . . . they're all part of Sage now.

The time honored custom of May 1 in Chicago came to Appleton last weekend. Midst heavy snow and ice underfoot, the girls trudged their weary way burdened with life's dearest treasures and that lamp from the secondhand shop. Imnumerable trucks and cars, and even taxis, carried the more fortunate ones to their new homes, while the future Sageites, trucked across the street with tooth-brush in hand. Willing workers in the foran of Lawrence men followed them with gunny sacks full of hidden goodies, and they secretly got a big bang out of the war-whoop "Men on second."

Faces peered from behind curtains and doors slammed hastily, while Sage was stormed by the male population. Designing females took the opportunity of empty hands on the way back to load drawers to be carried from one floor to another. The elevator was in constant use and it wasn't always on business either. (Anyone knows that when you press "Basement," it doesn't stop at first floor . . . and that red switch is for emergency and not to be touched.) What kept Harbert up on fourth so long? And didn't Buck look demure with that lime green formal slung over his shoulder? And

Week. The Pep committee may get another little paragraph if they are very bad, and the B. C. will make the Echo's news.

The ECHO

Well, here I am again, echoing what happens here at Lawrence. There's a lot to talk about this week, and I've been very busy echoing.

Amateur Gremlins . . .

We all win this week's contest for the Gremlin of the Week. Of course, most of us are only amateur gremlins, but gremlins just the same. I was at the convocation when the marionette show was given. What wins all Lawrentians the dreaded title of "Gremlins" is the singing of our nice Waring song. It sounded more like "Waring, Out" than "Waring, Fred" to me though. Of course it made my work easier 'cause all I had to do was sit up in the balcony. (I usually have to bounce from wall to wall like the echo at Ripon college!) We have learned to sing our "Alma Mater," but our fighting song sounds like a lullaby. I even saw some of the girls knitting while they were singing. They are the nasty black form of gremlin.

I was the official echo for a large number of colleges before I was promoted to Lawrence, and never have I heard a better fighting song than "Go, Lawrence, Go." Nevertheless, here I don't have nearly the work to do in bouncing back from the singing as in other schools. And it is all because of you Lawrentians! You, my Gremlins of the week nomination, are naughty, naughty people. Fie on you!

Gum-Drops . . .

The W. A. A. is my selection for this week's Gum-Drops. The Gum-Drops are the very best group on campus for any special week. Their Rib Mountain trip was one of the first of a group of plans that will help Lawrence revert to pre-war status. Because of the work of advertising and making arrangements the W. A. A. is the group which deserves this honored and coveted title.

Lollipop of the Week . . .

The title, Lollipop of the Week is, contrary to regular usage of its equivalent, the sucker, a prized title. It is the highest award your Echo can award. In fact there's nothing better than being Lollipop of the Week. We wish to start the rating off with a bang, and therefore award the honor to Mr. Hulbert. He deserves a great deal of credit for replenishing the man supply of the campus. This act is the most noteworthy of the week, and really gives the rating the elevation it deserves.

Coming Attractions . . .

The Echo column will reveal its writers in a big expose in next week's thrilling episode. Also the social committees may rate "A Quickie." Watch for the new Lollipop and the Gum-Drops, and also the nasty, nasty Gremlins for the

Library Offers Rental Pictures

Are the walls of your room bare? Reflect your personality in your room! Get a picture from the art rental collection. For 25c a semester you can boast an engraving by Albert Durer, or a painting by Claude Monet or Paul Cezanne. For those who prefer more recent painters, there is a scene by Edgar Degas, one of Grant Wood's paintings and many works of lesser known artists. Go into the library and look them over.

Rugged Lawrentians Torn Asunder at Ski Paradise

Warmly bundled and ready for anything and everything, we sleepily made our way to the library for the start of the Rib Mountain Trip. As we climbed into the first of the three busses waiting, we tried to prepare our minds for the trip ahead.

Stevens Point was a very memorable spot on our journey. I'd hate to be in love in that town — they don't like parking. The first bus had gone ahead, and the driver decided to wait in Stevens Point for the other two busloads to catch up to him. However, the police decided he waited too long, and took him to jail to clarify matters. The rest of us were quite amused to see the bewildered looks of some who had left the bus, return to find it gone. After this auspicious start, which soon, with some adept Lawrentian soft soap, was fixed, the journey continued uneventfully until we reached the booming metropolis of Wausau. We were ushered into the Elks' Club for lunch, cafeteria style. Something new every day!

We unpacked (hung up our toothbrushes); we returned to the bus and went off to the "hill". Never having been on skis, I hesitated until all the ski equipment was rented, so I could justify myself for not trying. We procured a toboggan with a pad. (Final week showed us that we're brilliant in the practical line only.) It was heaven rushing down, but after stumbling up three times, we decided that we were only mortals. Then, of course, Joe Scherschel and Schney took our pictures as we were covered with snow, with our smiles frozen on our faces. But we loved it!

As I struggled into bed Sunday night, I agreed with my roommate whole-heartedly that it had been a simply glorious week-end, and that it would take me all week at least to recover. Oh, by the way, if you're wondering who I am, I'm the girl who sits next to you in your ten o'clock — the one with the half-shut eyes, who groans everytime she moves. Tobogganing, I've decided, is hard on the muscles but gee, it's fun.

$60,000 Gift Donated to Lawrence

Worcesters Add To Original Fund For Art Center

A recent gift of $60,000 has been made to Lawrence by Charles and Mary Worcester, Chicago, it was announced by President Nathan M. Pusey recently. The sum is to be added to the Worcester fund of $200,000 originally contributed by the Chicago couple in 1943 for the purpose of providing Lawrence with an art center.

Other gifts made during the last year have brought the total amount available for post-war building at the college to a little more than half a million dollars, President Pusey also revealed. Approximately $275,000 has been contributed to the Lawrence building program chiefly by industries in this area. This is one of the most heartening parts the college has ever had, President Pusey stated. The money will be spent to complete the re-

Veterans Enroll For New Semester

More than 150 students, almost all of them veterans of military service, have enrolled for the new semester here at Lawrence to make up the largest mid-year registration in the 99 year history of the college. Approximately 50 of the students are former Lawrentians and the rest are transfer freshman students. All theaters of war and every branch of the military services are represented by the new enrollees, including Lawrence's first woman veteran, Mary Pat Connely, who was formerly in the Waves.

modelling work begun earlier in Main Hall, to effect needed improvements in the chapel, and especially to provide Lawrence with a modern science building by carrying out extensive alterations in the Stephenson Hall of Science. An additional item in the college's building program is the proposed Memorial Student Union which the Lawrence alumni association will finance and present to the college for its hundredth anniversary. The union is expected to cost an additional $150,000.

The deadline for making class changes in semester schedules is Feb. 16. After that no changes can be made without a petition to the office.

Students interested in counseling at summer camps are asked to contact Miss Wollaefer. She has information on various positions.

Although badly beaten by the Vikes in a January appearance here in Appleton, Grinnell has shown great improvement in recent games. Their squad has been bolstered by mid-year entries and their pre-war coach has returned from naval service.

Coe, after a slow start has come along very fast. Bob Tyrdik their leading scorer has been averaging almost twenty-one points per contest and their fast offense has baffled most opponents. They occupy first place in the conference standings with five victories, and no defeats.

The team's next home appearance will be Friday night February 15, when Beloit will be the guest. Let's have a good turnout.

Lawrence Five Loses to Beloit

Hall and Davis Score 24 of the 37 Markers

The Lawrence Vikes dropped their second conference game of the season last Saturday night at Beloit. Outplayed decisively in the first half, the Lawrence cagers came back to outscore their much publicized opponents in the second half, but their efforts fell eight points short, the final score reading 45-37. Led by Jerry Hall and Bill Davis, who scored fourteen and ten points respectively, Lawrence narrowed their host's lead to five points with four minutes of play remaining. Tobey Kay, Blue Devils' guard and captain, initiated a stalling maneuver at that point that spoiled Vike hopes.

Bill Klay, Beloit's 6'11" center was held scoreless and played only ten minutes of the contest. Johnny Erickson, slightly built forward from Rockford, Illinois led the winners with fourteen markers.

Back Copies of Lawrentian Needed

The Lawrentian staff urgently needs about 15 copies of the January 11 issue of the Lawrentian for binding and other reference purposes. If anyone has one of these back issues, please leave it at the Lawrentian office.

Because of the removal of Lawrentians from the office on that date of publication by college students who had them delivered to the dorms, there were none for Lawrentian needs. The editors ask all students except those living at home to refrain from taking Lawrentians from the office.

Phis Defeat Delts in Cage Contest, 29-25

In what proved to be the most closely contested interfraternity cage contest played so far this season the Phi Delts defeated the Delts 29-25. The game, played as a night-cap to the Sig Ep-Phi Tau battle, was even up at the half. In the opener the Phi Taus, led by their sharp shooting forward Howie Wolfmeyer, came out with a 41-13 victory.

SPORTLEBUTT

Well, there were a lot of upsets in basketball last Saturday night. Notre Dame, generally rated to be the nation's best collegiate five, fell to an unpredictable Northwestern quintet. Wisconsin finally hit the win column, and Beloit's Blue Devils came out on top in their battle with the Vikes. . . . One of the most publicized teams in the mid-west, Beloit definitely did not live up to its press notices. Their much publicized pressing defense looked good only at times, and their offense had its ups and downs. The Lawrence defeat was due in no small part to high ratings their opponent had been given.

The first cage practice session this semester saw twelve newcomers trying for a spot on the varsity squad. The would-be members, all veterans, included Boyden Supiano a letterman in 1942 at forward, and Jim Dalton who played here in '43. Other likely candidates were Bill Barr who has had experience at Cornell, Charles Klieforth of Appleton high school, George McClelland who played ball in the navy, and Lawrence Bongle from Sturgeon Bay high school.

Beloit has added quite a few new boys to its squad through mid-year entries. They include Jack Harr, and Howie Erzinger from South Shore's third place state tournament team of two years ago, and Jack Staley who played at the University of Illinois. . . . Ripon's line-up will include at least three new men: Guards Jensen and Scalissi, Center Shepard, and Forward Whitman, all of whom are experienced. Scalissi is one of the greatest guards the conference ever had, and a good shot.

Bob Trdik Coe forward and conference scoring leader rang up thirteen free throws against Cornell college. . . . Jerry Hall has amassed a total of 113 points in nine games for a 12.5 average. He has had better than a fourteen point average for three conference games played thus far.

In a play off bowling match in the interfraternity league, the Betas defeated the Phi Taus. Their total was a new league record of 2,273 pins. . . . Howie Wolfmeyer scored 17 points for his Phi Tau team in their first interfraternity game to lead all rivals in that department. Bill Lundy and Kel Lathrop of the Delts both have sixteen points in two contests.

Captain Larry Clark of last spring's track team will assist Coach Art Denny in getting early indoor workouts for this season's team underway. Lettermen Jim Krejci and Fred Thatcher returned to school with the new semester in addition to Larry to bring the total of veteran cindermen to six. New prospects include George Stud, middle distance man; George Nelson in weights; and Dick Frieling in the mile and half mile. Several meets are being arranged for the indoor season which Lawrence will open March 9.

Any returning students or new students interested in athletics competition are urged to contact Athletic Director Art Denny in his office at Alexander gym.
